Re: New Zealand Customs Approved SEP Security Seals

Dear Glen

Thank you for your letter dated 27 June 2011 requesting approval for two new seals (samples and details supplied) – the Mega Flexi Lock (a bolt and cable seal) and the Klicker seal (a bolt seal).

The Mega Flexi Lock bolt and cable seal has been tested by Dayton T Brown inc. of New York, USA and has achieved rating of High Security (H) measured by the standard ISO 17712:2010 (E) testing on 12 April 2011.

The Mega Fortris Klicker seal (bolt seal) has also undergone testing by Dayton T Brown inc. and has achieved a High Security (H) rating as measured by the standard ISO 17712:2010 (E) testing on 31 March 2011.

Both seals meet the minimum requirements to be New Zealand Customs Approved seals, and have been approved for use by partners in the New Zealand Customs Secure Exports Scheme.

Prior to any partners accessing these seals they must also gain New Zealand Customs permission to have these seals included in their Secure Exports Scheme approval with Customs.

Yours sincerely
